

Life Story

Include interests and hobbies, work career or profession, achievements and accomplishments, educational specifics, favorite vacation spots, likes and dislikes, and favorite cars owned. Include family details like first name of kids and grandkids, cities lived, anything special or unique with regard to the family members, best friends' names whether alive or not, anniversary, honeymoon location, and favorite restaurant for family events. You can share some stories that you might recall that make your loved-one special. These could be a Purple Heart recipient; have climbed Mt. Everest; restored an antique car; performed in concert with the Rolling Stones; earned a Writers Guild award. Or it could be something very simple as sang in the church choir; would sit on the front porch and read stories to the neighborhood children; as a child would sell lemonade at the corner; or made a skateboard from an old ironing board and rode it down the middle of the street. Ask friends and relatives for their thoughts and memories and add as well.
